b. Union Representative to contact

(b) (6), (b) (7)(C)

c. Telephone No.

d. Address (street, city, state and ZIP code)

e. The above-named organization(s) or its agents has (have) engaged in and is (are) engaging in unfair labor practices within the meaning of section 8(b), subsection(s) (list subsections) (1)(A) of the National Labor Relations Act. and these unfair labor practices are unfair practices affecting commerce within the meaning of the Act.

2. Basis of the Charge (set forth a clear and concise statement of the facts constituting the alleged unfair labor practices)

1. Charging Party is employed by Stop & Shop Supermarket Co., within a bargaining unit represented by UFCW Local 1459.
2. Charging Party began work at Stop & Shop in (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) and became a member of UFCW Local 1459 at that time because (b) (6) was led to believe (b) (6) had to be a member as a condition of employment. At no point was Charging Party ever given valid and adequate notice of (b) (6) right to be a nonmember under cases like NLRB v. General Motors Corp., 373 U.S. 734 (1963) or Pattern Makers v. NLRB, 473 U.S. 95 (1985), nor was (b) (6) ever given valid and adequate notice of (b) (6) right to pay only reduced financial core fees under CWA v. Beck, 487 U.S. 735 (1988).
3. On or about April 11, 2019, UFCW Local 1459 and its affiliates declared a strike against Charging Party's employer. In response to an inquiry from Charging Party about (b) (6) rights, (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) told Charging Party, in writing, that Stop and Shop is a "closed shop" and that Charging Party would lose (b) (6) Stop & Shop job if (b) (6) resigned (b) (6) union membership or went back to work during the strike. This was a blatant falsehood and misrepresentation of the law.
4. Charging Party returned to work for Stop and Shop and has since been subjected to slurs based on sexual orientation, threats of violence and similar harassment by, and at the direct instigation of, UFCW Local 1459 agents.
5. These acts and omissions restrain and coerce the Charging Party and other similarly situated discriminatees in the exercise of their Section 7 right to refrain from collective activity, and violate the duty of fair representation the union owes to each employee.

PRIVACY ACT STATEMENT

Solicitation of the information on this form is authorized by the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA), 29 U.S.C. § 151 et seq. The principal use of the information is to assist the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) in processing unfair labor practice and related proceedings or litigation. The routine uses for the information are fully set forth in the Federal Register, 71 Fed. Reg. 74942-43 (Dec. 13, 2006). The NLRB will further explain these uses upon request. Disclosure of this information to the NLRB is voluntary; however, failure to supply the information may cause the NLRB to decline to invoke its processes.

The United States Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia Circuit, in Abrams v. Communications Workers, 59 F.3d 1373 (D.C. Cir. 1995), another lawsuit that was supported by the Foundation, took the position, correctly we think, that private sector unions under the NLRA must comply with the procedural requirements imposed on public employee unions by the United States Supreme Court in Chicago Teachers Union v. Hudson, 475 U.S. 292 (1986). However, the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), the agency which has the primary responsibility for enforcing the NLRA, in California Saw and Knife Works, 320 N.L.R.B. 224 (1995), enforced, 133 F.3d 1012 (7th Cir. 1998), ruled that only some of the requirements of Hudson apply under the NLRA. At this time, the NLRB only requires unions to provide the following procedures to safeguard your right to pay no more than a limited agency fee:

- the union must inform you that you have the right to be a nonmember;
- the union must inform you that nonmembers have the right to object to paying for union activities not germane to the union's duties as bargaining agent and to obtain a reduction in fees for those activities;
- the union must give you sufficient information to enable you to intelligently decide to object;
- the union must tell you about its procedures for filing objections; and,
- if you object, the union must tell you the percentage of the reduction, the basis for the calculation, and that you have the right to challenge these figures.

If the union does not provide you with these procedures, or if you want to challenge the amount the union claims from you as an agency fee, you can either bring a lawsuit in federal court for breach of the union's duty of fair representation or file an unfair labor practice charge with the nearest NLRB regional office. However, any such lawsuit or unfair labor practice charge must be filed within six (6) months of the conduct of which you complain. If you file a duty of fair representation lawsuit, you will need an attorney.
